NO MORE BONDS IN SALOONS.

Sheriff Dickmann Issues Order That Sureties Must Sign Them at the Four Courts in the Future.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Thompson, who took Tim Kelleher and John, alias "Rab," Downey from the holdover to give bond, without the knowledge of the police Wednesday night, was suspended for fifteen days by Sheriff Joseph Dickmann yesterday morning.

Sheriff Dickmann was angry when he was informed that Thompson had taken the prisoner out of the police holdover without first seeing Chief of Detectives Desmond. who was not through with them.

After hearing Deputy Thompson's statement. Sheriff Dickmann told the Deputies who were then in the office that in future they are to get no prisoners from the holdover against whom warrants have been issued and take them to saloons to give Ch'ef Desmond stated yesterday that he had been informed that the bonds were signed in Cro-nin's saloon. Harry Williams, who is held on the same charge as that pending against Kelleher and Downey, was not taken out of the holdover and is now in jail, Deputy Sheriff Thompson says he was called up on the telephone by some person who said: "This is Judge Clark. I want you to bring Kelleher and Downey over to Cronin's saloon that I may release them on bond." Judge Clark says he had no conversation with Thompson. Chief Desmond was informed that Thome-son was on a furlough and had not been serving as a Deputy Sheriff for several days when he took the prisoners from the holdover. The Chief says he will lay the matter before Circuit Attorney Folk.

HORSES MAIMED BY TRAIN. Kinloch Special Runs Down Three

Animals at Boyle Avenue.

While returning from the Kinloch race track last evening, a special train on the Wabash road ran down three borses at the Boyle avenue crossing, striking the animals while going at high speed and fearfully maining them. Owing to the promptness of a pessenger on the train, who alighted and shot the horses with his revolver, the sufferings of the brutes were short, although affording a harrowing and should be affording a harrowing and should be a story to the suffering a harrowing and the should be affording a harrowing and the should be afforded by the should be a sh ing a harrowing spectacle to those on

The accident occurred about 6 o'clock. Sam Brenner of No. 2300 Pestalozzi street was returning from work, driving one horse and having three others hitched to the horse and having three others hitched to the rear of the wagon. Brenner did not notice the train until on the tracks and when his wagon had cleared the rails. The engine just missed the wagon, but hit the three horses tied abreast behind, throwing them to one side and maiming them all fearfully. Engineer Sam Sparks of No. 4342 Adams street was on the engine and applied the alibrakes just before the horses were struck, but too late to save the animals. The fund of the collision could be felt in the heavily loaded cars and the sudden stoppage of the train informed the passengers that something was wrong.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN HELD. Police Say Mrs. McCarthy Mis-treats Little Ones. treats Little Ones.

Mrs. Mary McCarthy and six children, ranging in age from 19 months to 12 years, were taken to the Four Courts yesterday by Patrolman Dalton, and Officer Wischmeler of the Missouri Humane Society.

Policeman Dalton reported to Captain Reynolds that he had found Mrs. McCarthy intoxicated, wandering around her home at No. 312 South Eighth street in the hot sun with her bare headed infant in her arms. She resisted arrest but was overpowered and placed in the holdover.

Humane Officer Wischmeler took the children to the detention-room, and placed them in Matron Kintzing's care. Effort will be made to-day to have the children placed in orphans' home.

Wischmeler and Patrolman Dalton say the room, in which the McCarthy family has an orphans' home.

Wischmeier and Patrolman Dalton say the room in which the McCarthy family has lived is unfit for human beings. It is devoid of furniture, and the children have been made to sleep on the bare floor.

FRANCIS WILL VISIT PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

World's Fair Matters to Be Discussed at Oyster Bay Conference.

PROBABLE COMING OF LOUBET.

Executive May Be Asked to Extend the Head of the French Republic Invitation to Attend Exposition.

President Francis of the Exposition Company was at the Waldorf-Astoria last night, according to a press telegram from New York. It was announced at the Administration building that he would visit President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay, before returning The intimation conveyed in this statement was that the President of the Exposition

Company had important business in the interest of the World's Fair to talk over with the President. Immediately after President Francis left the city, Tuesday night, it was given out officially that his trip was solely for the purpose of visiting his family at their summer place in Jamestown, R. I. Whatever the subject of discussion may be between President Roosevelt and President Francis is a matter of conjecture, but recent communications from M. Michael Lagrave, Commissioner General to the Exposition from France, has suggested the possible business at Oyster Bay. Before his departure for Paris the Commissioner General promised President Roosevelt that he would use every endeavor to induce President Fair, and after obtaining assurances he would advise the Exposition management, Commissioner General Lagrave was in St. Louis with the Rochambeau party several months ago. He has been in Paris long enough to have sounded the head of the French nation on the possibility of crossing the Atlantic. Whether the communication from M. Lagrave has given the greatly desired news of the success of his persuasions and has suggested that an official invitation should be extended by the United States Government are marters leading to the intimation that such might have been the cause of President Francis's

OLD-STYLE MAIL BOX IN SERVICE.

Only Survivor of Receptacles Discarded by Government Ten Years Ago in Daily Use.

One of the oldest mail boxes in St. Louis is buried in a brick wall at Morganford and Gravois roads. An enterprising property-owner built his store wall around the box, and, aithough this box is now out of style, Postmaster Baumhoff does not believe in wrecking part of the wall to secure the box.

Until ten years ago mail boxes with a slide at the side were in use. Then the present boxes were put in and the old type taken up. Mr. Baumhoff has recently discovered the old box is still in use at Morcanford and Gravios roads.

The box is firmly implanted in the wall of a store, and it would be a difficult task to secure it without injuring the building. What was the object of the property-cwner in building a wall around the box is not known. The box is somewhat out of the way of passers-by and many persons in the neighborhood do not know of its tors for that building. The feature will consist of a row of eight mammoth columns, standing free from the building and forming a semicircle open to the sky and reaching far into the avenue.

The foundation for the columns was begun yesterday by the contractors. After the columns have been set in place an immense dome, built on piling, is to be erected. The architectural possibilities of this plan will be great in the transverse avenue which separates the Varied Industries from Electricity, and fronts on the west waterway.

passenger agent of the same road, at St. Louis, discussed with Secretary Stevens and the division directors yesterday methods by which the raliroads could be of maximum service to the Exposition.

Mr. McCarthy took up the question of the intramural railway with Director of Works Taylor. He advanced the idea that the Baltimore and Ohio might bring many excursionists to the city during the construction period if they could be assured that there were means of traversing the site at slight expense to view the work. elight expense to view the work.

The honeymoon plans of James Dunnavant and Miss Deva Vandover, who were married at the home of the bride's parents in Fenton, St. Louis County, a week ago Wednesday, were interrupted by the hasty and somewhat unceremonious departure of the bridegroom.

Exactly what motive prompted Dunnavant to depart as he did will not be told by the Vandover family. Some say that the bride's brother, Doctor S. H. Vandover, summarily ordered the husband away, while others declare that the bride is responsible REVERSES CAUSE HIS SUICIDE. William Goodwin Shoots Himself at Moberly, Mo.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Moberly, Mo., Aug. 14.—William W. Goodwin, 34 years old, committed suicide in Dingle Brothers' grocery store this afternoon by shooting himself in the head. He never spoke after the shot. He was a traveling salesman for the Crossman Seed Company of Rochester, N. Y.

When his body was searched a note was found in his pocket as follows:

"Wire Charles Goodwin, No. 3839 Shaw street, St. Louis. Nervousness is the cause of this. God forgive me, I have done my best."

He told a physician this morning he had contemplated suicide for the last six

He told a physician this morning he had contemplated suicide for the last six months. The doctor argued with him about the matter, but without avail. He remained in the store where he committed the deed from it until 1 o'clock. During this time he gave no sign of his intention, but appeared to be in good humor, talking cheerfully and freely. He had about $89 and a small check on his person. He told the doctor he had met with financial reverses in the East six months ago and had contemplated suicide ever since; that life had no pleasure for him, and he was going to give it up.

News Surprised the Brother. News Surprised the Brother.

Charles Goodwin is a brother of the dead man, and is boarding with a family at No. 3520 Shaw avenue. When seen last night he said he had received a telegram from the undertakers to whom the body was taken asking instructions as to its disposal. Goodwin is waiting to hear from relatives in Rochester before giving any orders.

He said the news of his brother's act came as a great surprise to him, as he

He said the news of his brother's act came as a great surprise to him, as he thought he was prospering in business, which was that of traveling salesman for Misseuri, Kansas and Nebraska for the Crossman Seed Company. Mr. Goodwin was in St. Louis about two months ago, but at that time mentioned no financial reverses, and appeared to be in the best of health. He was unmarried, but leaves a mother and two brothers. HE STRUCK RICH GOLD ORE. Robert Rutledge Found Mine Was Not Worked Out.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Denver, Colo., Aug. 14.—Robert Rutledge of the firm of Rutledge & Kilpatrick, real estate agents in St. Louis, was recently told that the Charter Oak mine in Glipin County. In which he invested $15,000 a few years ago, was worked out.
Rutledge came to investigate and had miners clean out the workings. While doing this they uncovered a large body of ore running $63 per ton gold. SODALITY EXCURSION SUNDAY. Father Long Pleased With Experi mental Lawn Party. The Young Men's Sodality of St. Lawrence O'Toole's Church will give an excursion next Sunday on the steamer Hill City. The boat will leave the foot of Locust street at 9:39 a. m.

The Reverend John S. Long, paster of All Saints' Church, Maple and Indiana avenues, is well pleased with the experimental lawn party given last Tuesday evening. The grounds south of the church were lighted with Chinese lanterns and electricity. Tarpaulins were spread on the grass for dancing. The attendance was good and a next sum was realized. It was the first lawn party given by the parish.

St. Louis Man Directing Strike. REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Jacksonville. Ill., Aug. 14.—Otto Eberhardt of the St. Louis Cutters' Union arrived here to-day to direct the Garment Workers' strike at the Capps clothing factory. Nonunion cutters and others are being employed in the places of the strikers, and there have been several minor condicts on the streets. About 250 men and women are involved in the strike. Several of the nonunion cutters to-night addressed an open letter to the Sheriff, asking for protection.

After Mayor Wells returns seventeen more new men will be admitted to the department: This will bring the membership of the Fire Department up to 551, including officers and men.

The increase of the forces of the downtown engine-houses is expected to double the efficiency of the companies. Chief. Swingley says the large, new engines can be operated to their full capacity, and that the wounds inflicted by the dog were liable be operated to their full capacity, and that the necessity for second alarms will be greatly reduced.

PROTEST AGAINST BUILDING. Page Boulevard Residents Fear a

Livery Stable. Property owners in the vicinity of Euclid avenue and Page boulevard are much concerned over a building which several of them allege is to be used as a livery stable after it is erected at the corner.

Charies Mueller of No. 1238 Euclid avenue, one of the protesting property owners, states that last fall Malcolm Ulchs, who owns the property, had several loads of old bricks hauled to the lot. Mr. Ulchs, he claims, told him he intended to erect a storage-house. Mr. Mueller, accompanied by the Reverend Samuel E. Ewing of the Taylor Avenue Baptist Church; Mrs. Bradford and Doctor Hanpeter, then called on the Building Commissioner and protested against the erection of a storage-house on the premises.

A permit was issued August 1 to Malcolm Ulchs for the erection of a forty-four-room apartment-house, and work has begun, but Mr. Mueller alleres that there is no provision being made for either a cellar or basement under the new structure and that it looks like a foundation for a livery stable. BURNED BY STEAMING TAR. Hospital Doctors Fear Hugh Riley's Injuries May Be Fatal.

Two buckets of steaming hot tar covered the head, shoulders and arms of Hugh Riley yesterday afternoon, and burned him so severely that City Hospital doctors fear he may not recover.

Riley is employed by the St. Louis Roofing Company. He was carrying the buckets of tar up to the top of the roof of the house at No. 4615 Lindell boulevard when he stumbled and fell. As he fell Riley threw his arms upward and the tar was spilled on the roof. Stunned by the fall he was unable to arise and the hot tar flowed down the roof to his head, shoulders and arms.
